

ALEXANDER REICHART

alex.reichart@gmail.com | Mystic, CT | (234) 207 0630

High performing college graduate with a deep understanding of data analysis and data concepts, tools and use cases. Skilled in creation of data models and visualizations. Strong passion for the application of data and statistics into sports and sport media.

EDUCATION

University of Wisconsin - Madison (2019-2023)

Bachelors of Science

Majors: Computer and Data Science

GPA: 3.388

Related Courses

Artificial Intelligence, Machine Organization, Computer Engineering, Discrete Mathematics, Database Management, Programming I II & III, Computer Graphics, Data Modeling, Computer Algorithms, Programming Language Theory, Data Visualization, Human-Computer Interactions

SKILLS

Programming Languages: Python, R, Java, SQL, C, C++, JavaScript, Rust

Softwares: Microsoft Excel, Visual Studio, Microsoft Power BI, Linux, RStudio, Tableau

Concepts: Database Structures, Data Analysis + Visualization, OOP

SCHOOL PROJECTS

UW-Madison: Department of Statistics

Class Project: Group Data Analysis (Feb-May 2022)

- Used R and data analysis abilities to compare state cancer rates to oil fracking
- Used presentation skills to present analysis/conclusions to professors/students

UW-Madison: Department of Computer Science

Class Project: B-Tree Design + Implementation (Feb-Apr 2022)

- Used insertion/removal concepts and C++ to develop a B-tree equivalent
- Used data management skills to develop node insertion/deletion features

WORK EXPERIENCE

University of Wisconsin-Madison

College of Letters and Science Peer Advisor (May-Sep 2022)

- Provided guidance to incoming CS/DS students by reviewing strengths and objectives
- Managed coordination of connecting students/advisors through teamwork and advocacy
- Worked with team to ensure students received positive interactions with all advisors

Big Y (Stonington, CT)

Customer Service Specialist (Mar 2024 -)

- Track customer interactions, ensure customers are satisfied with products/employees
- Analyze databases and reports indicating product stock and customer spending trends
- Managing front-end staff to make sure customer interactions were positive and helpful