Profile

My previous job was as an irrigator in a vineyard. I spent 10+ years working in vineyard work and after I was laid off I decided that a change was needed. So I changed to something that was more stable and something I was interested in since I was a kid that was computers and coding. Training at 4Geeks Academy was a good experience for me, I learned a lot from the teachers as well as my peers. Learning how to work with others in a project group and how to PUSH github files was a new experience. All in all I liked my learning experience there and learned a lot.
